FOR IMMEDIATE MEDIA RELEASE

ESP updates website with emphasis on Service

As one of many new initiatives to better support our customers, the company legally named Energy Steel Products, LLC is now simplifying our name and web address to www.espsteel.com with an updated look and feel to our website. Customers can also shorten email addresses for employees to the format of [name]@espsteel.com. For backward compatibility the previous web addresses and emails will continue to work indefinitely.

You may have also noticed our professional sales team now answers the phone as “ESP Specialty Steel – We Anticipate Your Needs.” This is all in an effort to let our customers know that while we are the best in the business at servicing the energy products sector for stainless steel, we can do much more than that and we encourage you to challenge us to do so.

Check out www.espsteel.com to find out more about all of the following:

- Stainless Steel, Pump Shaft Quality, and Perforated Metal Product lines
- Value Added Services such as Polishing, Cutting, Boxing, and more
- Industry support for Energy, Auto, Medical, Defense, Aerospace, and more
- ISO 9001:2008 Quality Certification to ensure the quality you expect from us
- Three locations to meet your needs
- Ability to “Contact Us” directly from the website
- Sign up to receive our periodic email communications to keep you informed of all the latest developments at ESP that can support your business
