We source the world for the best product mix for your industry. The manufacturing mills we have selected are scrutinized for product assurance, performance and specialize in a wide range of goods.

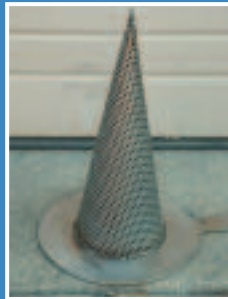

Perforated Metals for Industrial & Architectural applications.

Perforated Metals have become the choice of architects, interior and product designers to create visual effects that can only be achieved with this highly diversified building material. Besides its special properties to interact with light, it is used for sound suppression and filtration. We supply perforations in various shapes and designs, in all types of metal as well as in plastic.

We stock Perforated Metals in Stainless, Galvanized, Aluminum, Cold Rolled and HRPO, in a full range of thicknesses.
